Columbus, Ohio; June 30, 2009—Cott Systems Inc., an innovator in technology solutions for land and court records management, announces continued positive growth despite the struggling economy. The release of new products, investment in research and development and experience with the industry's past economic cycles ensure the company's continued strength and longevity.

During Cott's annual financial review by their independent accounting firm GBQ Partners, LLC, Scott Runyan, Director of Assurance & Business Advisory Services, stated that, "Cott's management team knows their business and understands their costs as well as any company we deal with."

This achievement in a down economy is, in part, due to the people who drive the company's success", explained Gary Ross, Cott Systems President. "We are fortunate to have such a talented, strong leadership team at Cott. With the right management, the right investments, and by partnering with our customers and high-quality service providers, Cott's longevity of 121 years in this industry will continue for many more years to come."

Innovation is high priority for Cott Systems. With the release of two new products during 2008, resolution3 and eCommerce, customers are provided the latest in technology for land and court records management. Cott's products allow the individuals who govern these records to increase workflow efficiency, generate additional revenue for their office, and provide their constituents with more robust searching capabilities. "Our customers are finding that our land records technology solutions are helping them to not only gain efficiencies but also to ensure a better return on their investment," noted Ross.

resolution3 introduced a wide range of workflow options, not available before to many customers, and the opportunity to utilize additional services provided by Cott Systems, such as: AutoRedaction (blocking the view of sensitive information to protect against identity theft), disaster recovery services (eBackup and Web Hosting), and eCommerce - which positions customers to generate additional revenue from their internet search for land and court records using the latest commerce technology.

"Our customers are ultimately what drive our business", said Jodie Bare, Vice President of Customer Support at Cott. "We listen to what they need and we respond. We have many different methodologies in place to monitor what our 200+ customers need and want. We take pride in the results of a recent survey of our customers which indicate that, "99% would recommend Cott's products to their peers."
